Product information "Meeting Timer 1 Hour"

Many people believe that meetings belong to the universe's greatest time wasters, especially when they drag on and on. All the better that there's LALA; simply placed in the middle of the conference table, this stylish hourglass is most suitable as a timer for workshops, conferences and any other kind of meetings. When the black-dyed sand gently runs through the 30cm high borosilicate glass, the meeting's participants know how far along they are. 60 minutes of time, that becomes a great deal for all those involved.

Height: 30 cm
