Arild Links, Bracelet Army Green Humanium Metal L

Diverse, sustainable and meaningful, the bracelets from Swedish brand Arild Links, steeped in history, are more than just beautiful pieces of jewelry. They are a symbol of true values with a reminder of support against gun violence. The olive green, 41 cm cord is made from recycled PET bottles. The curved clasp made of humanium metal, extracted from destructed illegal firearms, harmoniously complements the bracelet in size L. These items of jewelry are available in different sizes and colors.

About Arild Links

The pieces of jewelry from the Swedish fine jewelry company Arild Links are statement pieces of a special kind: Their sophisticated design makes them a fashionable accessory, but they convince even more through their materials. Made from humanium metal in combination with gold, silver or diamonds, each piece tells its own story. Humanium metal is manufactured from destructed illegal firearms and is rarer than gold. Wearers of these extraordinary pieces become ambassadors for peaceful conflict resolution, thus transporting a deeper meaning, rarely found in fashion, to those around them. Sustainability is also a priority at Arild: In addition to sustainable production chains, corporate strategies and values, the richly colored cords used are made from recycled PET bottles.
