The soft fluid lines of this large striking sculptural bowl make it the perfect centrepiece of a table setting. Filled with salad, vegetables or maybe even flowers, the mirror polished stainless steel surface also reflects back the room in which it sits, adding an extra element of decoration. Stood alone or grouped with other bowls from the same collection, it adds a contemporary element to any interior decoration scheme.

Constantin Wortmann always believes his designs should have a sense of humour about them and should evoke some kind of emotional response. His iconic Cobra collection for Georg Jensen illustrates this philosophy and has deservedly earned a special place in stylish homes around the world.

The large serving bowl is beautifully crafted from stainless steel which is then given a mirror polished finish.
