One is beautiful, two is even better! These two stainless steel Cobra candleholders work beautifully as a pair, spaced out on a table or mantelpiece, but are even more magical when they are stood close together, the curves complementing each other and giving the impression of movement, much like the candle flame itself. Striking and minimalist, they make a perfect gift for anyone who loves true style in the home.

Georg Jensen's Cobra collection of candleholders, tableware, and lamp-stands is one of the house's most recognisable and popular. Designed by German born Constantin Wortmann, the pieces bring both a sense of humour and a contemporary sculptural style to everyday objects whilst never ignoring practicality.

The set of two candleholders are beautifully crafted in mirror-polished stainless steel.
